— No. 1. —

Sid. 7. One must not believe everything one hears. When you enter London, you will be struck with the immensity of the city.
 In England they drink much Tea. Every man has generally some dear recollection from his childhood. Somebody must have done this. Some one of you has done it. Anybody cannot do that. No one will do it. Everybody says so, One day is not like the other. There's no place like home. All the family are doing well. All are but parts of one great whole. Here I bring you the half of the sum. What are you about? Have you any money about you? An amphitheater has rows of seats one above another. He fell over head and ears into the water. His name is known all over the world. There are many persons who seek their fortune beyond the Atlantic. I have waited for you since eight o'clock. From morning till night. This was done under colour of justice. This is all I can do under the present circumstances. After rain follows sunshine, and after pain, delight. The ancients were behind us in knowledge, but not in wisdom. Pride goes before destruction, and a haughty spirit before a fall. An old bachelor said once, "The trouble is not to find a woman you can live with, but to find one that you could not live without." From this point of view I can understand the matter. The poor gentleman will never get from hence. Let us hasten in the direction from whence the cry proceeded. The sun always rises in the east. Have you ever been in America? No, I have never been there. Towards the end of December the days are shortest. The evergreen retains its verdure through all the seasons. We have flowers throughout the whole year. I have got these goods upon extraordinarily moderate terms. I have not so much money as you. Milton doubted whether he had not been born an age too late. However bright the sun may be, yet hope is still brighter. Although so many rivers run into the sea, yet the sea is not full. We have warned them several times, they, however, did not listen to our advice. Virtue is praised by many, and she would be desired too, if her worth were really known. Where your treasure is, there will your heart be also. It is needless to attempt describing all the particulars. He is very particular in many things. I am particularly fond of strawberries. All that Lord Cobham did was at thy instigation, thou viper, for I thou thee, thou traitor! As long as there's life, there's hope. This was quite against his will. There's no enemy more dangerous to man than himself. Nature is impartial in her gifts; to these she gives beauty, to those understanding. He who will not reason, is a bigot; he who cannot is a fool; and he who dare not is a slave. We have left undone those things which we ought to have done, and we have done those things, which we ought not to have done. Though he earn money, yet he will remain poor. Whatever be our fate, yet let us try. Whether he succeed or not, his intention is laudable. Unless he act prudently, he will not accomplish his purpose. Wherever he be, let us seek him! No measures whatever have been taken. In what situation soever you may be placed in life, learn to be content! whatsoever you do, let it be done with prudence! You are welcome, whenever you come. Whoever says that, says an untruth. Whichsoever you choose, you shall have. Which ever road you take, it will conduct you to town. Why don't you like my typewriter? Because it's too noisy and because the writing is not visible. I go to my office every day, except Sundays, of course. According to my promise, when I left you, I send you herewith a little description of my journey; afterwards I shall send you a few photographs. Dear Sir, I have delayed answering your favours of the 2nd and 5th inst., in order to give you our advice on all the various matters contained therein. In ill, therefore I cannot accompany you. Since it is so, I cannot help it, I shall do it notwithstanding. Nothing daunts great souls, because nothing is greater than they are. Does he not want something to eat? He does not (doubt) want anything. He is the same as he ever was. This is just the one thing I cannot do for you at present. He has left them of his own accord on account of ill-health. We beg to forward our printed list of prices. We might make special arrangements with you. Instead of learning his lesson, he went out playing. Even the wisest may err, otherwise they would not be mortal. It was thus they ruined their health. The principal argument, upon which he was condemned, was false. He appeared at court in behalf of his brother-in-law. Did you not find the man in a very bad condition? No, on the contrary, I found him very well according to the circumstances. Have you seen my umbrella? No, but perhaps you left it behind you somewhere in the garden.

Rule Britannia.

1. When Britain first at Heaven's command
Arose from out the azure main,
This was the charter of the land
And guardian angels sung the strain.
Rule Britannia, rule the waves!
Britons never shall be slaves.
2. The nations not so blessed as thee
Must in their turns to tyrants fall,
Whilst thou shalt flourish great and free,
The dread and envy of them all.
Rule &c.
3. Still more majestic shalt thou rise
More dreadful from each foreign stroke,
As the loud blast that tears the skies
Serves but to root thy native oak.
Rule &c.
4. Three haughty tyrants ne'er shall tame;
All their attempts to bend thee down
Will but arouse thy generous flame,
But work their woe and thy renown.
Rule &c.
5. To thee belongs the rural reign,
Thy cities shall with commerce shine;
And thine shall be the subject main
And every shore it circles, thine.
Rule &c.
6. The muses, still with freedom found,
Shall to thy happy coast repair,
Bless'd isle, with matchless beauty
Crowned
And many hearts to guard the fair.
Rule &c.

Yankee Doodle.

1. Columbians all the present hour
As brothers should unite us,
Union at home 's the only way
To make each nation right us.
Yankee doodle, guard your coast,
Yankee doodle dandy,
2. Fear not then nor threat nor boast,
Yankee doodle dandy.
The only way to keep off war,
And guard 'gainst persecution
Is always to be well prepared
With hearts of resolution.

Yankee doo-dle, let's write,
 Yankee doo-dle dandy,
 To patriots still maintain our right
 Yankee doo-dle dandy.

3. Great Washington, who led us on
 And liberty effected
 Shall see we'll die or else be free
 We will not be subjected.

Yankee doo-dle, guard (w-6,0.)
 4. A band of brothers let us be,
 While Adams guides the nation,
 And still our dear bought freedom guard.

In every situation.

Yankee doo-dle (w-6,0)
 I. May soon the wished for hour
 arrive,

When peace shall rule the nations,
 And commerce free from fetters prove
 Mankind are all relations

Then yankee doo-dle be divine,
 Yankee doo-dle dandy
 Beneath the fig tree and the vine
 Yankee doo-dle dandy.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a list or account. The text is dense and spans most of the page. It appears to be a list of items or transactions, possibly in a historical or administrative context. The script is highly stylized and difficult to decipher without specialized knowledge of the language.

Handwritten section header or separator, possibly indicating a new entry or a specific category within the list.

1. (11.) Handwritten text, possibly a list item or a specific entry, starting with a circled number 11.

Handwritten text, possibly a list item or a specific entry, starting with a circled number 12.

2. (12.) Handwritten text, possibly a list item or a specific entry, starting with a circled number 12.

Handwritten text, possibly a list item or a specific entry, starting with a circled number 13.

3. Handwritten text, possibly a list item or a specific entry, starting with a circled number 13.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or letter. The text is densely packed and covers most of the page. It appears to be written in a language that may be a form of Hebrew or a related Semitic script, given the characters and the context of such documents. The ink is dark, and the paper shows signs of age and wear.
