Your Excellency,

I have conveyed the contents of your letter of the 14th. January to H.M. the King.

H.M. has instructed me to convey to you His deep gratitude for your kind message and to tell you that He was very glad that you were able to visit our country and very happy to meet you personally; and that He very much enjoyed the brief conversation He had with you.

He has also instructed me to forward to Your Excellency His greetings and very warm wishes for a continuous success in your noble task in the service of the world's nations.

May I, too, take this opportunity to thank Your Excellency most sincerely for your kindness and to wish you wholeheartedly every success in your invaluable efforts and incessant endeavours to promote the objectives of the United Nations.

Please accept, Your Excellency, the assurances of my high consideration.
