UN SECRETARY-GENERAL VISITS LAOS

UN 60983 - VIENTIANE, Laos, 9 March 1959

In the course of his current visit to ten member nations, UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold called on officials of the Government of Laos and met with UN personnel in Vientiane. The visit is one of a series of trips to member countries which the Secretary-General undertakes from time to time when his other responsibilities permit.

While in Vientiane, Mr. Hammarskjold and his party took part in the Basi ceremony, a traditional Laotian way of honouring and wishing well to someone. Part of the ceremony involves the tying of cotton cords draped from bowls of flowers to the wrists of the person being honoured, while the Lao elders recite a blessing. Mr. HAMMARSKJOLD is seen here as the Basi cord is tied around his wrist.

U.N. SECRETARY-GENERAL IN ISRAEL

UN 50052

-- UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., May 1956 --

Last January, Secretary-General Dag HAMMARSKJOLD left New York for a six-week round-the-world tour, during which he visited 15 U.N. Member Countries. This picture, received only recently here at Headquarters, was taken during his stay in Israel. It shows Mr. Hammarskjold visiting a kindergarten class in the school of Givath-Jearim, a village for new immigrants in the Jerusalem hills. Most immigrants in this community are coming from Yemen.
