I wish to thank you very much for your kind letter of 27 June. It has given me great pleasure to convey your words of appreciation to the members of the United Nations staff, who all thoroughly enjoyed the excellent co-operation with you.

Let me use this occasion to express to you and all your men my deep appreciation for the admirable way in which you carried out your difficult task. You can all be proud of your accomplishments, which contributed to make the celebration of the tenth anniversary of the United Nations at San Francisco such a success.
