Dear Per,

As you probably know, some memoranda and cables have flown back and forth over the ocean regarding an invitation from the Conseil d'Etat de Genève to the S.G. for dinner during his next stay here. The dinner was fixed for the evening of 13 July and everybody seemed to agree.

Now we just learn this morning that the invitation is not for dinner but for luncheon on the same day. Somebody made a mistake or changed his mind, who knows. Anyway, it seems rather silly to go on writing very official letters about this engagement. Would you therefore be so kind as to inform the S.G. of this change in plans. In case Mr. Hammarskjöld has any objection, please let us know. If it is O.K. don't take the trouble to answer.

Looking forward to see you again soon. With my regards to all the Musketeers,

Sincerely yours,
