Dear Sir,

The Secretary-General has asked me to write and thank you most warmly for your personal attention during his recent visit to the Hittite Museum.

It was a fascinating experience for all of us and it was very much enriched by our having the benefit of your advice and explanation. The charming reproductions which you were kind enough to present to the Secretary-General and others in our party have all been brought back to New York safely and I can assure you that each one of us is most grateful and proud to have such wonderful mementos of our visit to your remarkable Museum.

With kind regards,

Yours sincerely,

George Ivan Smith
