Our Southeast Asian friends now plan a meeting next Friday. Situation seems to be that either, by then, they would have agreed on everything, or else, because of one special limited point, would find it necessary to register that they have not got anywhere on anything. In neither one of these cases you may find it very useful to be present, but I would all the same suggest that you come as in case of failure I do not wish to let ball drop and you should be a party to followup. About that time both Algeria and Congo are likely to reach point which may provide you with added justification to drop in, were you to find the main reason alone too meager. Shall give copy of this cable to Sievert. Warmest regards to the Langes, Erna and yourself.
